Privacy Policy

Your privacy and discretion is top priority with Coitus Couture, LLC. Our client database and subscriber list is not available to anyone.

Our Privacy Policy applies to the information collected at www.coituscouture.com. It is important to keep your personal information accurate and current. Access to this is by your profile with our site or by emailing or calling our customer service department.

We collect information that you provide when you enter the site, shop online, or request catalog or information. Information collected is name, telephone number, credit card information, order history and messages. This enables Coitus Couture LLC to deliver merchandise, respond to requests and inquiries, and provide relative information that applies to you personally.

Our orders are accepted through a SSL (secure socket layer) to place your order through a secured connection. Although we have implemented security measures, absolute security is not always possible or guaranteed. .
